

SCAT!

Based on "Scat Rap" by Robb Pemple, Mary Keebler and Andy Bennett; Word adaptation and music by Peter Moore and Tom Ernst. [E-A-D-A-//]

CHORUS:

E            A            D            A
Starts with an "S" and it      ends with a      "T"
E            A            D            A
Comes out of you and it      comes out of      me
E                    A                    D                    A
I know what you're thinking and it could be called that,
          E      A            D      A      (keep cycling through EAD till verse)
But    be scientific and      call it SCAT!

VERSES:

If you're walking through the woods and your nose goes "ewww!"
You know some critter's laid scat near you
It may seem gross, but that's okay
They don't have toilets to flush it away
Now don't run screaming and lose your lunch
Break it up in pieces, you can learn a bunch, about SCAT!

(after verses, hold final E till chorus)

(CHORUS)

If you want to find out what the animals eat,
Take a good look at what they excrete.
Inside of their scat are all kinds of clues,
Parts of their food that their bodies can't use, and that's SCAT!

(CHORUS)

If you park your car in the woods or a field,
You might find scat on your windshield.
Some of it's purple and the rest of it's white,
You just got bombed by a bird in flight, and that's SCAT!

(CHORUS)

Well, it tells us what they eat and it tells us who they are,
And that's what we know about scat so far.
If you wanna find out what animals are around,
The place to start looking is the scat on the ground -- we're talking SCAT!
