Decomposition

by the Banana Slug String Band E7-A7-D-E7/G-D-G-D-E7-A7
Alternate chords:D-G7-D-G7-D-G7-D-C-D/F-C-C-F-D-G7-D

E7 A7
Is there waste? Well, I don't know.
E7 A7
One thing dies to let another one grow.
E7 A7
This cycle we see most every day,
E7 D E7
and the name we call it is decay.

CHORUS:
G D
Well come all you people and gather 'round,
G D E7 A7
Breakdown and listen to what? To Decomposition!

(divide audience into three groups to make the following sounds/motions while playing the same chords as the verses - E7-A7 etc.)

Group 1 sings, "Muncha, muncha, muncha, muncha, muncha, muncha, muncha, muncha ..." while making munching motions with their hands.

Group 2 sings, "Decomposition, decomposition, decomposition..." while snapping fingers.

Group 3 sings, "I get down, I breakdown, I get down, I break down ..." while making disco downward pointing motions.

There are many kinds of bugs,
worms and snails and banana slugs.
They are useful to me and you,
They help the soil to renew.

(CHORUS)

Decomposition is a useful game:
A tree drops its leaves, but they don't stay the same.
A bug chews them up and spits them back out,
making the soil for a new tree to sprout.
